

Dear Friend,

Well it has been a while since I last wrote, but best to say I think of you often.

I have found myself trotting the globe to source the very best of Teas to share with you. I know, I know... I hear you saying that it was "quite" abrupt of me to shut up shop to go exploring and please dearest forgive me. I have found just the solution for us, so that I may continue my endeavours abroad.

The solution is "Nanette" who by chance I met in at a "whistle stop" in Kenya. After revealing to her my mission to bring "all of you" the best Tea but the conundrum of having my refreshment room closed. She happened upon the perfect plan.

My dear it is quite clever. She will re-open the room again on the 22nd of March so that you may once again enjoy the perfect cuppa. Whilst enjoying her homemade club sandwiches, cupcakes and other decadent delights. Oh how I wish I was home.

But I must push on.

Nanette has also come up with a great idea to help me source the "Best of the Best" for you, quite simply, a survey.

I would like to send you a sample of what I have been tasting while away. But I need some ...oh what do they say these days?? Feedback, yes feedback!

Please email me at info@thetealady.co.nz with your name and address and your preference for either:

White Tea, Black Tea, Green Tea or Herbal and I promise to send to you the sample of your choice.

Till we meet again dear friend.

Yours truly,

The Tea Lady
